COUNCIL DECLINES TO ENTERTAIN APPEALS AGAINST ASSESSMENTS

The regular meeting of the town council was held on Monday night with the usual batch of unemployed occupying space intended to accommodate ratepayers who purposed attending to appeal against their assessments. Quite a number of ratepayers were surprised to find the main entrance to the seat of power locked, and were obliged to go away. Others sought and gained admission through an alley way via the fire hall.

On behalf of the majority of those affected by the business tax assessment, Messrs. J. E. Gillis and S. G. Bannan appeared to give evidence, but were told that while this was the court of revision, no evidence was necessary—meaning, of course, that the assessment as made and approved by this council, would stand, and that all would be notified by registered letter of the council's decisions. Messrs. Chappell and Montalbetti were also present in behalf of the West Canadian Collieries, Limited, who are the biggest taxpayers and naturally the most aggrieved.

Such action of the council is quite disappointing, and can only have one result—the cancellation of all assessments.

Since writing the above, notices to the following effect have been received through registered mail by a number of ratepayers:

"Re appeal against the 1933 assessment of the Town of Blairmont for the purpose of levying a business tax.

"You are hereby advised that the Council of the Town of Blairmont, sitting as a Court of Revision, did on the second day of May, 1933, confirm the assessment as recorded on the 1933 tax roll.

"Please notify this office in writing by REGISTERED MAIL within eight days of this date if you wish to make a further appeal to the Alberta Assessment Commission."

Yours truly, secretary-treasurer.

The above is dated May 3rd, and postage cost for each notice amounted to 12 cents. The money so spent by our all-wise council could have purchased at least fifty meals for the unemployed. As it now stands, there has been so many irregularities and evidences of "inefficiency" displayed, that the ratepayers really have nothing to worry about.

The council received a letter from the board of school trustees that they had decided to appoint their own secretary-treasurer and would set his salary. Formerly one third of the salary of the town-school secretary-treasurer was paid by the school district. Already provision has been made by-law for a salary of $175 per month for the present town secretary.

Upon request, a list of businessmen represented by Messrs. Bannan and Gillis was submitted, whereupon His Worship the Mayor advised his secretary to record that such "businessmen were 'asking for relief.' One interesting feature of the business assessment is the fact that only certain individuals have been assessed, and that some ten to sixteen carrying on business in town within the meaning of the act never received notice, nor were their names entered in the business tax assessment roll in the town office, unless same has been done within the last few days.

A number of accounts were passed for payment, and a number of correspondences were read and tabled. One local party, who at a very recent meeting of the council applied for relief, had the audacity to offer to purchase lots from the town at this meeting, and could pay cash. He had previously enlisted the sympathy of the council to such an extent that he was granted a certain amount of free light and water.

Councillor Olson gave notice that

LOCAL DISTRICT MUSIC COMPETITORS CARRY AWARDS

William Robt. Anderson, L.R.A.M., L.T.C.L., A.R.C.A., adjudicator from England, who will be in Lethbridge for the local musical festival which commences on May 15, has been officiating at the third annual East Kootenay festival at Cranbrook.

Entrants were present from all points of the district, from Creston on the west, to Pincher Creek on the east: Kimberley, Lumberton, Yahk, Hillcrest, Blairmont, Coleman, Furnie, Canal Flats and Invermere were also represented.

Many Alberta competitors shone at the festival, including:

Piano solo, under 14, class had very evenly matched competitors. Beethoven's "Sonata in G" and Cardelli's "Early Morning" were the numbers played. Freda Antrobus, of Coleman, came first with a marking of 90 and 85, and Lorna Hales, of Blairmont, came second with a marking of 85 and 85.

In the open piano class, "Prelude in E Major," by Bach, and a selection by the players were played. Miss Jean Cruickshank, of Hillcrest, won first place with 84 and 88 marks, and Miss Dorothy Olivier, of Blairmont, second, with 84 and 87.

In the girls' low voice solo class, under 16, Wilma Wheatcroft, of Blairmont, was given high marks 85, with Freda Antrobus, of Coleman, and Jean Upton, of Blairmont, tied for second place with 83.

In the open piano duet class, Misses Beatrice Trono and Dorothy Olivier, of Blairmont, who played "London Bridge, the Realm of Youth," were congratulated by Mr. Anderson and given a marking of 85.

Dorothy Hayden, of Cranbrook, came first in the girl solo class with 84 and 85 marks. Gushul, of Blairmont, was second with 83.

Miss M. Jarvis, of Procter, won the soprano solo class with 82 marks. Mrs. D. Thomas, of Hillcrest, who was also a decided favorite with the audience, was disqualified from second place on account of not singing from memory.

Dickie Morgan, of Blairmont, in violin class under 11, came first with a marking of 86, and Agnes Langin of Pincher Creek, came second with 84.

George Kerr, of Blairmont, in violin solo class under 17, who was a prize winner and favorite in the 1932 festival, came first with one of the highest marks awarded in the 1933 festival, getting 178 for his two numbers. Second place went to John Pietrusko, of Coleman, with 176.

The Blairmont orchestra, under J. E. Upton, won the Cranbrook Gyro Shield with 87 marks.

In the open violin solos, James Wright Marshall, of Hillcrest, won first place with 86 marks, and Catherine Rose, of Hillcrest, second with 84 marks.

In this class there were eight entrants, five towns—Kimberley, Blairmont, Corbin, Hillcrest and Cranbrook, being represented. "Paradise," a Viennese number by Kraemer-Kriesler, was the number and the adjudicator offered the opinion that none of the players achieved the Viennese touch and that he had been disappointed, in fact bored.—Ex.

Mentioned in the list of competitors from this district were the following:

Piano Solo, Class E.—Georgette Dow, Blairmont, first; Polly Gushul, Blairmont, second.

Piano Solo, under 14.—Freda Antrobus, Coleman, first; Lorna Hales, Blairmont, second; Rose Oliver, Blairmont, third; Beth Murray, Frank, fourth.

Piano Solo, Class A open—Jean Cruickshank, Hillcrest, first; Dorothy Olivier, Blairmont, second; Beatrice at the next regular meeting of the council he would introduce a by-law setting rates for electric power and light.

COOTE FAVORS BANKING PROBE

OTTAWA, May 1.—An investigation into banking and currency problems would be a good thing, said G. G. Coote (U.F.A., Macleod). He believed if Canada was going to benefit from currency reform, there must be some inflation. United States had given a lead and Canada should be ready to follow. If Canada had established a central bank some years ago, when it was suggested, it would have the proper machinery now to control inflation.

He had been struck by the lack of any guidance from bankers, noticeable ever since the depression set in, Mr. Coote said. He did not indict all bankers, but the great majority had been barren of any helpful suggestions.

Mr. Coote spoke strongly in favor of a central bank, which he thought should have been established two years ago, to control a planned inflation, aimed at bringing up commodity price levels and stabilizing currency. He urged similar action to that to be taken with respect to banks and money by the president of the United States.

A plea for a central bank was entered by H. E. Spencer (U.F.M., Battle River). Among other things it would have the exclusive right to deal in foreign exchange.—Ex.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

The will of the late Mrs. Timothy Eaton was admitted to probate and showed a total of $661,433, all bequeathed to members of the family.

A new assessment for the town of Ft. Flon will be made in 1934 by E. R. H. Mills, assessor for St. Boniface and other areas in the neighborhood of Greater Winnipeg.

Concrete measures to prevent misuse of civil aeroplanes for military purposes have been presented by Canada, the United States, Argentina and Japan to the disarmament conference.

Canada will spend $75,000 for the conservation of fish again this year, the House of Commons decided when the annual vote for that amount came up in the estimates and carried.

Output of Manitoba mines in 1932, according to a preliminary estimate, was $3,719,072. Production in 1931 was valued at $7,119,380. Gold output this year was given as 102,969 ounces, valued at $2,538,294.

Provincial government expenditures will be $27,742,701 less in 1933-34 than last year, according to an announcement by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce who have conducted a Dominion-wide survey.

The Carnegie endowment has awarded a prize valued at $4,450 for "promoting peace," to Arthur Henderson, president of the disarmament conference and former British secretary for foreign affairs.

A works program involving an expenditure of $411,740 will be carried out this year on the Northern Alberta Railways. Making the announcement, John Calaghan, general manager, said new stations, new bridges and other work would be included in the program.

Investors Are Warned

Record Of Mineral Claim Is Not Certificate Title

Investigate first, is the warning given to prospective investors in various mining ventures that have resulted on this coast from activity in the Cariboo gold camps.

"Even in the Cariboo country every mountain doesn't sprout gold," declared J. P. Scarlett, gold commissioner at Barkerville, "judging by the eagerness with which some people put their money into gold propositions up there, you'd think gold grew on trees."

There will be a multitude of mining claims offered in the Cariboo gold area and local authorities warn the purchaser that the record of the mineral claim is not a certificate title issued by the government. Yet many unsuspecting investors believe this to be the case.

After Sixteen Years

Soldiers' Widow Has Received Identification Disc and Badge

After a lapse of 16 years Mrs. May M. Hawkins of North Vancouver, has learned the fate of her husband, Frederic Hawkins, reported missing in the Somme campaign, October 8, 1916. She received from Ottawa the identification disc and badge worn by him.

The Imperial War Graves Commission reported to Ottawa, an isolated grave was found in the neighborhood of Le Bar, which the identification disc showed to be that of Private Hawkins. The body was re-interred in No. 2 cemetery at Neuville St. Vaast, France.

Where Taxis Are Cheap

People Can Ride In Amsterdam For Ten Cents

Taxis at cheaper rates than street cars are for hire in Amsterdam. A uniform fare of 10 cents for any ride within the boundaries of the city has been introduced by a new taxi company, with small cars to carry three passengers. This compares with 11 cents for a corresponding ride on the local municipal tramway lines. If three persons employ the services of one of these new taxis, each has to pay the 10-cent fare.

"England" and "Great Britain"

Interchangeable Terms Are Not Always Used In Correct Way

It is often convenient for variety's sake, and it comes naturally from long habit, to use "England" and "Great Britain" interchangeably for the nation which is more or less ruled by the crown. John McKean, however, upbraids us for making this "mistake." He would probably deny that Sir Walter Scott is an ornament of English literature and would amend Lord Nelson's "England expects every man to do his duty."

It is true that the British press, except in moments of absent-mindedness, honors its sensitively race-conscious readers by avoiding the English equivalents of Great Britain, British and Briton. Their susceptibilities," H. W. Fowler remarks in his "Modern English Usage," "are natural, but are not necessarily always to be deferred to. It must be remembered that no Englishman, and perhaps no Scot even, calls himself a Briton without a sneaking sense of the ludicrous."

It is idle to deny that England in English are synonymous with Great Britain and British, in speaking of England nationally as one does of France and Germany and Italy. They are so in common usage, everybody knows, whether they ought to be or not. Take a speech by that eminent Briton, Lloyd George. It is peppered with British and British but here is the ringing close: "Having won through the greatest struggle for human progress that the world has ever seen since the days of the flood, let us determine, one and all, with one heart, one purpose and one resolve that that England which is to us a condition and level such as no one has ever seen her on before, 'England,' meaning of course 'Great Britain,' was the right word there."

Canada's Official Status

Secretary Of State Sals Uncertainty Of Many At Rest

An answer to an appeal made to the secretary of state by the Catholic commission of Montreal regarding the status of the Dominion defines Canada as a self-governing state of the British commonwealth of nations. The appeal was made when examination papers of pupils' disclosure of "vague and uncertain knowledge about the question, 'What owns Canada?'"

The answer from the office of the secretary of state, signed by Hon. C. H. Cahan, mentioned that Great Britain does not own Canada, any more than Canada owns Great Britain. Canada and Great Britain are each independent members of the British commonwealth, and the Dominion belongs to the people of the Dominion.

This answer sets at rest a large amount of uncertainty among Canadians regarding the official status of the land of their birth. It was evident from the answers submitted in examinations at Montreal, that the question had not been sufficiently emphasized in the schools. Dr. Mullaly, secretary of the Catholic school commission, has promised that in future more attention will be paid to this question.

Society Has Good Aim

English Rector Anxious To Put Stop To Malicious Gossip

A Society for the Prevention of Gossip is being established by the rector of the village of Beckington, near Bath. Seemingly its operations are to be confined to within the borders of the parish.

Presumably what is aimed at is the suppression of gossip that is malicious or slanderous, not the innocent little-tattle which justifiably goes with afternoon tea.

For the time being the names of the officials of the society are being kept secret. There are those who assert this will set gossip going all the harder.

Some of the ancient parishes of England still possess the ducking stool, in which women who had been condemned as "scold" would be soured in the horse-pond.

Whether the Beckington Anti-Gossip Society proposes to revise this kind of punishment is not yet revealed.

Flat Model Of Dominion

Panorama Of Canada Being Made For Grain Show

A panoramic flat model of Canada, 95 feet long and 48 feet deep, will be the outstanding feature of the exhibit now being prepared by officials in charge of the Dominion's exhibit at the forthcoming World's Grain Show at Regina.

The exhibit will constitute a miniature Dominion in detail, a condensed panorama of the natural resources and industries of Canada.

Announcement of this feature of the forthcoming show was made by officials of the World's Grain Exhibition organization recently. The exhibit will contain more than 30,000 pieces.

Twenty-one other sections of the exhibit space in the southeast corner of the exhibition building will be devoted to representations of other services and educational branches of the federal department of agriculture.

New Kind Of Trip

The hall porter in an Aberdeen hotel was relating his experiences of the latest arrival to the boots. "Yes," he said, "I carried his bag up three flights of stairs, and at the top he slipped something into my hand and said, 'That's for a cup of tea.'"

"And what was it?" asked the boots. "A penny?" "No," replied the hall porter, "a lump of sugar."

A Good Suggestion

The London Morning Post suggests that Britain hand over George Bernard Shaw to the United States to liquidate the war debt. Mr. Shaw's speech in New York was a disappointment, according to the New York Times. It might be a good idea to threaten to send them Shaw if they declined to cancel the debts.

Soldiers Puzzle Italy

Eighteen Harbored For Fifteen Years Refuse To Disclose Identity

Italian officials are wondering if they have been fooled after harboring almost a score of Russian soldiers for 15 years.

Near the end of the great war, the 15 soldiers were taken as prisoners and refused to give any information concerning themselves. When the war ended they were offered freedom but they declined to go. Consequently, they were numbered and are now known only by their numerals, having refused to give their names. The Italian government has given them food and shelter in return for odd jobs they performed about the army camps.

Everything went well until 1926, when for unexplained reasons they started a hunger strike. It soon became apparent they meant to go through with their plan, so the Italians sent them to a home for the mentally defective. That evidently was successful, for they began eating regularly again, as before, they resisted all attempts to learn where they came from and who they were.

They have been in the home for seven years and remain today as much a mystery as ever. Allegedly, they are still the hungry strike and the uncommunicative attitude could be accepted as signs of insanity. There is nothing to indicate their sanity can be questioned.

Spilled the "Atmosphere"

"Buy American" Slogan Received Rude "Jolt" At Dinner In Philadelphia

The "Buy American" dinner at Philadelphia was moving successfully and patriotic fervor was at a high pitch. The George Washington motif was used. A number of Colonial hats and little hatchets had been supplied with the effect of providing "atmosphere," which, however, was roughly dispelled when one of the hats became turned inside out by accident and the dreadful fact was revealed that it bore the label, "Made in Japan." The consternation increased when someone was moved to examine the hatchets and found that they bore the same trade-mark.

Hard To Place

At a Rugby match between Scotland and Wales two spectators were interested in another who, during the whole progress of the game, never uttered a word and displayed no excitement or sign of partisanship.

"And he can't be a Scotsman," said the other, "because he's brought a program."

Pop—"Fire away."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

MAY 7

JESUS FACES THE CROSS

Golden Text: "And it came to pass, when the days were well-nigh come that He should be received up, He steadfastly set His face to go to Jerusalem."—Luke 9:51.

Lesson: Mark 10:32-52.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 53:7-12.

Explanations and Comments

Announcement Of Coming Suffering and Death, verses 32-34.—On the way to Jerusalem Jesus took His disciples away from the crowd that always followed, to warn them once more of what was to be His fate. He was bound for Jerusalem, although He knew that a shameful death awaited Him there. Although He knew? Rather, "Because" He knew, for the suffering and death were His crowning. He was to give His life a ransom for many.

The disciples were amazed, and they that followed were afraid. Have you never had as companion one whose mental alienation you could distinctly feel? Such was the feeling that oppressed them. The Twelve, breathless about earthly things, were dwelling in a state of exaltation upon His coming sacrifice; they were amazed about the cross, as they gazed upon that face which betokened thoughts too deep for them to fathom.

"There is much talk about Christ, and even some fellowship with Him, which is lacking in awe. Men both outside and inside the Christian Church speak of Him with unabated breath, as an interesting item in the world's conglomerate history. In religion we are only helped by that before which we are on our knees in adoration. Mark's portrait, in many ways the most human picture of Jesus, presents One who frightens those who know Him best. They are in the presence of a Man whose power in speech, and not, and patience, and devotion, startles them. They never got over being surprised. They were amazed straightaway with great amazement." Is it not a true picture of Jesus varied again and again by those who think enough about Him and live sufficiently by His power to know?—Henry Shonke Coffin.

The Back Seat Driver

Sense Danger and Cannot Read Mind Of Man At Wheel

The Hon. Brian Lewis, one of Britain's most daring racing motorists, entered a car in a one thousand miles road race in Italy, but finding that he would have to trust to an Italian driver who knew the route, and that he would only be a passenger in his own car, he withdrew his entry. Some agonies when he is at the wheel he fears to trust himself to another driver.

Isn't that just what is in the mind of the "back seat" drivers? They have an instinctive feeling of apprehension because they sense danger and do not know what is in the mind of the man at the wheel. He is probably a safe driver, but they note some impending risk and shout warnings and advice at him, lest he does not succeed in the circumstances.

There are many experienced drivers who are unhappy when another person is driving. They know they are safe drivers, but they are not certain that the other fellow is. The back seat driver is more to be pitied than blamed. He, or she, is just nervous, and not an interfering person at all.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Associate In Arts Certificate

Recognition For Work Done In Junior Colleges By Saskatchewan University

In order to secure suitable recognition for work done in junior colleges under the supervision of the University of Saskatchewan, the university will, beginning with convocation this year, grant a certificate to be known as the associate in arts certificate to students completing the equivalent of a second year arts course. Dean L. L. Dines has announced.

The qualifications are a first year at the "U," or senior matriculation and a second year arts course with certain options. The student may take his first or second year three senior arts subjects, of which English must be one with an additional appropriate course in music, household science, secretarial work or accounting.

The "Breeches" Bible

In a fine collection of old Bibles being displayed at McGill University library is a volume printed at Geneva in 1560 called the "Breeches" Bible. It is given this name because the text in Genesis 11: 7, reads: "And they sewed fig leaves together and made themselves breeches."

Maple syrup and maple sugar production of Canada, if expressed entirely in terms of sugar, amounted to nearly 25,000,000 pounds in 1932.

Another British Discovery

Tellurium Lead Expands Water Pipes

So They Will Not Burst

A few weeks ago we gave a description in this column about a British discovery which gives cotton the strength and shen of silk, and how another British discovery is a substance that will expand lead pipes so that they will not burst during a thaw and which will also render cables under water immune from corrosion.

The discoverers are two engineers, W. Singleton and Brinley Jones, who were searching for a substance that would resist the corrosion of cables. They hit upon something which they call tellurium lead after experimenting patiently with almost every known metallic material. It is really a waste product from copper refining, but the quantity required in the treatment of lead is very small, only about one part in one thousand.

This discovery means that there will be no more burst water pipes in houses. The pipe will expand with the pressure of the thawed ice and recede to normal when the pressure is relaxed. How serious the burst pipe nuisance is every house keeper knows. In the city of Sheffield alone there were 29,000 burst pipes during a severe winter four years ago.

The claims have been substantiated after strict test by the British Non-Ferrous Metals Research Association, and the invention opens up great possibilities as a commercial proposition. The cost is infinitesimal over ordinary lead, the extra amount in fitting an average sized house with the tellurium lead is less than ten dollars over the ordinary lead.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Given Permanent Employment

Many Officials Provided For By Federal Government On Taking Over Natural Resources

Of the 1,087 officials retired when the three prairie provinces took over their natural resources, 256 were given permanent employment by the provincial administrations, and 22 were taken on temporarily. A total of 137 were given other positions in the Dominion civil service.

This was the answer given by Hon. T. G. Murphy, Minister of the Interior, to Hon. Charles Starnie (P.E.I., Bonaventure) in the House of Commons when the interior estimates were under review.

Mr. Starnie asked a large number of the retired employees were now enjoying Superannuation and Were not "anxious" to return to government service. However, the others were being absorbed as rapidly as circumstances would permit.

Revelations By X-Ray

Portrait Of Pope Paul Painted Over Head Of Turk

Surprises have been reached by the application of X-rays to old paintings and masterpieces in Rome. Paintings that had been supposed to be the actual portraits of the popes, when the actual portraits, Under the portrait of Pope Paul III, the rays revealed the turbaned head of a Turk. A very ordinary picture of the Turk and Child was found to have been painted over a far more handsome Virgin and Child of the Umbrian school.

Under a painting attributed to Tintoretto, an early portrait of the artist's physician was found, and a painting of a Bacchanalian scene by Bonpiani had under it a prettier picture—a Christian liberating slaves.

CONDITIONS IN RUSSIA

Under this heading two letters in a recent issue of the New York Times bring us some additional information, one letter leaning to the Soviet side and the other the reverse. The letter favoring the Soviet says that it is not true that the Russian worker gets only two ounces of bread for his dinner, as he gets one-and-one-half pounds of bread a day. But this may apply only to the workers. It is true that now the worker gets meat only twice a week, but in 1913 most Russian families had meat only once or twice a year. The writer admits that there is a scarcity of many things, but says that the manufacture of shoes has increased 250 per cent under the five-year plan; he admits, however, that last year only 85,000, 000 pairs were manufactured to supply Russia's 160,000,000 people. There is a shortage of houses and also of wearing apparel, but this is in spite of the fact that 60 new needle-trade factories have been erected under the five-year plan, and 27,000,000 square metres of housing have been provided during the last four years. The other letter laments the persecution of the "kulaks," who, he says, are not the profiteers of former days, but "the noblest type of our industrial rural inhabitants, who have built their own homes and well-being by hard work, saving, learning and persistency. So far, he says, over a million of such industrious peasant families have been deprived of their homes, families, and all that they have saved, and exiled to Slon penal colonies. The arrest and banishment of these people as criminals, the writer asserts, "has made a terrific demoralizing effect on the whole Russian rural population." Putting the two letters together, it seems certain that Russia has yet a long way to go to reach satisfactory and stable conditions. And that, after all, is what one should expect to find at this early stage in that country's regeneration.—Ex.

To the usual duties of the force has been added customs preventive work and six of the provinces have scrapped their provincial forces and have turned the police work over to the federal force. Because of this, the force now has a strength of 2500 officers and men and its equipment consists of 359 automobiles, 127 motor cycles, 13 trucks, 101 boats, both seagoing and for use in inland waters, 445 sled dogs and 255 horses. The dogs are still much in demand for work in the far northern sections of Canada, though in emergencies the police now take to planes and cover in a few hours distances that take days or weeks by dog team.

SCHOOL LANDS LEASES

During the past year and a half, many holders of school land sales contracts with the provincial department of lands have voluntarily relinquished their contracts, and have entered into lease arrangements covering a period of six years. These arrangements, made in anticipation of better conditions than at present exist, have proved, and are likely to prove in the immediate future, too onerous for the lessees in view of the depressed state of affairs. In order to give some relief to the situation, holders of these leases will be given opportunity to obtain cultivation permits, paying to the department of lands a cash rental of four cents an acre for all portions of the land they do not cultivate. They will also pay a permit fee of $1.00 and a share of crop grown on the land during 1933. The share of the crop paid in any case will not be greater than one-quarter of the crop, scaling down to one-seventh.

Settlers who make such arrangements with the department and comply with the terms of their permits, will have priority right for a renewal for 1934, and at the expiration of that season the settlers will have the first right to lease the land under the regulations of the department. These leases are for a term of six years, renewable for a further six years, so that under these arrangements, a settler may have possession of the land for 14 years if he complies fully with the requirements.

In the case of land leased from the department, a refund of taxes paid to the lessee will be made of taxes paid on the cultivated area, up to the amount of the department's share of the crop grown on the land, provided the lessee pays the taxes assessed against the land and furnishes a receipt for the payment. Responsibility for payment of arrears of taxes in any year on leased land is an obligation entirely upon the lessee.

An amendment to the laws passed at the recent session of the legislature, gives authority to the minister of lands to consolidate the sale, exclusive of interest, may be used to liquidate the principal monies due under the contract covering land which the owner desires to retain.

MENACE OF A MUD PIE

That the mere fact of being alive is a doleful and dangerous business is proved beyond all peradventure. Hourly over the air listeners-in are solemnly warned of what will happen if they don't use so-and-so's "germ killer." Daily the advertising columns of publications point to the perils of passing up such-and-such a potion. But to a bacteriologist of Pittsburgh must be given the palm for cautioning the world that the worst has not yet been told.

Analyzing a mud pie, with which his small son had been playing, he is reported to have discovered that this time-honored infantile pastime is fraught with the direst possibilities. Investigation of that apparently innocent make-believe confection, he declares, yielded the following alarming result:

Number of Germs
Diphtheria	1,800,000
Measles	2,450,000
Smallpox	900,000
Lockjaw	3,600,000
Dysentery	900,000
Pneumonia	600,000
Tuberculosis	600,000

As nothing appears to have happened to the child, it looks as though those particular Pittsburgh germs must have had a yellow streak or have been too proud to fight. For 1,800,000 bacteria to sit idly back and let a little boy poke them in the ribs, so to speak, without any attempt at retaliation, rather argues for either cowardice or weakness on their part. Or perhaps they were on a five-day schedule and all this happened on their day off. Or again may it not be that the worst germs that moderns encounter are those of fear broadcast in some medical interviews and advertising?

Radio and movies have largely relegated the making of mud pies into a thing of the dim and musty past of this age of progressive—and precocious—infants, but who shall say that some of their aspects are not perhaps more harmful than all the germs the bacteriologist's lens disclosed, which seem to have been so harmless.—Ex.

COMMUNITY ENTERPRISE

Montreal Que., May 2.—Because it seems to have escaped the more rigorous effects of the present economic depression, attention has been drawn to a co-operative community near Morell on the lines of the Canadian National Railways in Prince Edward Island, founded 20 years ago by one Ben Compton, a Scotsman, and conducted today by his nephew Captain John Compton.

The community consists of upwards of 100 persons who own and farm some thousands of acres of land. It owns community tractors and other farm machinery, community barns and a co-operative store. When the produce is harvested, Captain Compton sells it and banks the proceeds to the credit of the community.

Even marriage is a community matter, for when a young man marries, the community sets him up with a farm and a community-furnished house. The church is community-built and community owned and service is conducted by men of the congregation taking turns in this procedure.

John M. Mercer, vice-president of the Northern Construction Co. Ltd., and president of the Vancouver Motors Ltd., died recently at Vancouver. Mr. Mercer was identified with the construction of an enormous power dam and canal in Newfoundland some twenty years ago.

ENID COLE GURNEY PRESENTS CONCERT MAY 10

Those who attended the former concert of Enid Cole Gurney will be happy to know that the one to be given in Hillcrest on Wednesday next is to be of the same high standard.

Mrs. Gurney's concerts were well known for their variety, beautiful costumes, lighting and the professionalism of her pupils. The coming programme has been arranged to suit everyone, adults and children. The dances are new and different, the costumes interesting and colorful.

Mrs. Gurney has written two comedy sketches for herself, "How many Apples?" telling of mother's attempt to help with Bobby's homework and contract bridge—the conversation of one who knows all there is to know about bridge. The one-act play for the children, "Jimmy Takes His Medicine," was also written by Mrs. Gurney. It is a humorous incident of how Jimmy and Peggy get into the medicine cabinet while mother is away. The results are amusing.

Miss Carla Kuryluk dances several interesting numbers. Her Hungarian Gypsy dance will be a highlight on the programme. Everyone will enjoy the graceful dancing of the children in "Rolie O'Reilly," a baby number, in old-fashioned dresses.

There are to be two hours of the best entertainment—comedy, drama, new dances, etc.—a play and the latest songs. The whole programme, beautifully costumed, well directed and enjoyable from beginning to end.

The Hillcrest orchestra will play. Don't forget, May the 10th.

HOW FAR DID YOU RIDE?

Everybody in Canada did considerable moving about by motor car in 1932, if you believe in averages. Gasoline sold in the Dominion last year was officially estimated at 503,452,000 gallons. At 20 miles to the gallon, the mileage covered would be 10 billion miles.—This allows a distance of 8,000 miles for each of the 1,200,000 cars and trucks in Canada. There is an automotive vehicle for every eight people in the Dominion, statistical sleuths have discovered, so with one person to a car while this mileage was being covered, everybody in Canada averaged 1000 miles of motor travel last year. Placing the average carload at two-and-a-half people, everybody got 2500 miles.

A SOLILOQUY

Consider the Editor!

A child is born unto the wife of a merchant in town. The physician getteth 35 plunks. The editor writeth a stick and a half and telleth the multitude that the child tippeth the beam at nine pounds. Yes, he lieth even as a Centurion, and the proud father giveth him a Cremona.

Behold, the young one groweth up and gradueth. And the editor putteth in his paper a small notice, and telleth the wisdom of the young woman, and her exceeding comeliness. Like unto a rose of Sharon is she, and her gown played up to beat the band. And a dressmaker getteth two score and four cartwheels, and the Editor reteth a note of thanks from the sweet girl graduate.

And the daughter goeth on a journey, and the editor throweth himself on the story of the farewell party and runneth a column solid. And the fair one remembereth him from afar with a picture postal that costeth six for a jitney.

Behold, she returneth, and the youth of the town falleth down and worship. She picketh one, and lo, she picketh a lemon. But the editor callth him one of the promising young men and getteth away with it. And they send unto the editor a bid to the wedding, and lo, the bids are printed in a far away city.

Flowerly and long is the wedding notice which the editor printeth. The minister getteth 10 bones, and the groom standeth the editor off for one year's subscription.

All flesh is grass, and in time the wife is gathered unto the soil. The minister getteth his bit. The editor printeth a death notice, two columns of obituary, three lodge notices, a eulogy of poetry, and a card of thanks, and he forgetteth to read proof of the head and the darning thing cometh out: "Gone to Her Last Roasting Place."

And all who are akin to the deceased jumpeth on the editor with exceeding great jumps, and pulleth out their ads and cancellth their subscriptions, and they swing the hammer even unto the third and fourth generation.

Can't thou beat it?—Ex.

A Momentous World Event

A momentous conference is, at the time this article is written, taking place in Washington between Premier Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain and President Roosevelt of the United States. That conference is to be followed by another between the President and the heads of other nations. All are preliminary to the World Economic Conference to be held in London in June, and the object of these preliminary conferences is to find common ground of agreement so as to assure the success of the world gathering to follow.

As Ramsay MacDonald said upon his arrival at New York, President Roosevelt and himself, who, he believed, were in harmony of spirit regarding all great world causes, were getting together to explore the problems that have to be dealt with and endeavour to find formulas for their solution. That is, Ramsay MacDonald, a life-long advocate of peace between nations in the sense that there should not be physical warfare, is now striving with might and main to bring about peace between the nations in an economic sense, and to endeavour to overcome to the fullest extent possible, the economic damage done to the world as the result of the last Great War. In President Roosevelt he finds a man of the same spirit imbued with determination.

At the time of writing, newspaper despatches from Washington indicate that, although the conferences between these two great leaders of the English-speaking world are not finally concluded, it is the universal belief that eventually satisfactory agreements have been reached on all the major problems, and common ground of action decided upon when the World Economic Conference assembles. Furthermore, that Great Britain and the United States will now unitedly endeavour to secure the acceptance of these views by other nations.

It is stated that these world leaders believe they have found formulas for the solution of existing world problems and the ending of the depression which has affected the world for the past three or four years. These solutions it is frankly recognized cannot be brought about by any one nation, or even by two or three nations, because the problems are international and world-wide in extent and in their application. It is further recognized that betterment of existing conditions cannot be achieved by solving one or two of universally recognized problems; rather that action must be taken in regard to a whole series of matters all more or less correlated to each other, with one interlocking into another.

This is not to say that Premier and President have decided that the whole existing economic system of the world must be replaced by some entirely new system. It does mean that they recognize the fact that, while monetary systems, international finance, systems of exchange, war debts and reparations, tariffs, trade quotas and embargoes; production and distribution of commodities of all kinds; world armaments, etc., all have a bearing on the one great problem, the basic cause of the world's troubles, and therefore the ultimate solution, is not to be found in any one of these things, but to a greater or lesser extent in all of them.

They are not approaching world problems as theorists, but as practical men of affairs, leaders of their people, world leaders of experience, determined, as Ramsay MacDonald says, "to clear the obstacles which block the highways of trade, both within our own countries and between the nations, and so restore the hope of employment to the workless millions who look to earn their living in factory and field."

Therefore, to the extent that existing monetary systems and international methods of finance and exchange present obstacles along the highways of trade they must be altered; not destroyed, but improved so as to facilitate greater freedom of exchange and render a maximum of service to the world. So, too, in regard to tariffs, quotas, embargoes, trade restrictions of all kinds, they are not seeking to bring about world free trade, which is presently impossible, but to encourage and promote, rather than discourage and restrict, trade between nations without doing damage to the interests of any; in a word, to develop mutually advantageous reciprocal exchange of commodities. Likewise, to deal with war debts, reparations, armaments in the same spirit and in order to achieve a life debt. War debts cannot all be cancelled, reparations abandoned in toto, complete disarmament effected, but the obstacles erected by these things across the trade highways of the world can be largely removed.

Bringing the leading statesmen and heads of nations together in this spirit, and with such an object in view, is, we repeat, a momentous event in the world's history. International conferences, world conferences, for the exchange of national views and the exposition of national needs for friendly examination and discussion of opposing viewpoints, policies and interests, and approaching problems which are the concern of all in a conciliatory spirit, is the sane, sensible, businesslike and Christian attitude. It is constructive, not destructive. It is practical, not impossibly Utopian. It offers hope of success, because it is not narrowly selfish but accords consideration and fair play to all.

Dutch Indies Have Issued Stamps To Help Work

The new charity stamps of the Dutch Indies have attracted a great deal of interest, for they are the first stamps ever issued in aid of the Salvation Army. In Java and other remote parts of the Dutch Indies, the Salvation Army is largely responsible for the care and education of the native children, the management of hospitals and work among the lepers. That is the reason why this great institution is represented on these stamps.

The Dutch name for Salvation Army is "Leger des Heils." This appears on each stamp and also the Salvation Army crest in the two lower corners. The set consists of four stamps, and each stamp depicts the various handicraft that are taught the natives. The central subject of each design is in brown, and the remainder of the design in the following colors: Two-cent, violet; five-cent, sage-green; twelve and a half-cent, rose; fifteen-cent, blue.

Quite Out Of Date

Modern War Moving From Chivalry
To Chemicals

An article by E. M. Forster, in the Spectator, London, says: The sword, the bayonet, the rifle, the cannon are all anachronisms and will soon only survive in a military tattoo. The destruction they caused was local and so the sentiments connected with them are out of date. In the war of the future destruction will be universal. Bacterial bombs as well as poison gas will fall from the sky, the distinction between combatants and non-combatants will disappear, women and children will be as suitable a target as men, and it is not this or that kind of country which will go down in the general catastrophe, but all kinds and all countries. War has moved from chivalry to chemicals, and unless we can get this into our heads we are doomed, kings included.

Cannot Eliminate All Advertising Over Radio

Canadian System Must Compromise
Opinion of British Official

Clasding Murray, public relations officer of the British Broadcasting Corporation, made a spirited attack on opponents of public service broadcasting. Mr. Murray, who is spending several weeks in Canada as adviser to the Federal Broadcasting Commission, spoke to the Toronto Empire Club.

While not suggesting United States radio programs at their best were inferior to those of Great Britain, the speaker insisted that program building under the sponsored advertising principle was increasingly more difficult than under the license system employed in the United Kingdom.

He dealt particularly with the finance of broadcasting, contending that, far from being a charge on public funds, it was, in fact, a potential source of substantial profit.

"I have too much knowledge of my own country, Canada," he continued, "to suggest that it should adopt a copy of the British or any other broadcasting service. Conditions here are so different that the B.B.C. could not be copied, even if that were desirable."

"A vast area, a comparatively small and scattered population—these are not the conditions which, in these hard times, admit the elimination of advertising from broadcasting. It seems to me that while the ideal everywhere should be the reduction of advertising to a minimum, there is at present the necessity for compromise and this I understand it, is the policy of the Commission."

Designed Speed Engines

Sir Henry Royce Of Auto Fame Dies

Sir Henry Royce, 70, of West Wilton, England, whose brain was behind some of the world's fastest automobile and aeroplane engines, is dead after being bedridden for six months. He was a joint founder with C. S. Rolls of Rolls-Royce, Ltd., motor car and aeroplane engine builders, of Derby and London, in 1907.

He founded Royce, Ltd., mechanical and electrical engineers of Manchester, in 1884. When Rolls-Royce, Ltd., was formed he became its director and chief engineer.

He designed the engines which gave the Great Britain speed records on land, sea and air. It was with his engines that Flight-Lieut. G. H. Staines established the world air record, Sir Malcolm Campbell shattered his own land record and Kaye Don secured the speedboat record.

Position Is Unique

Britain Undertakes Duty Without
Dominion In Persian Gulf

The position of Great Britain in the Persian Gulf is unique in world politics. Without owning a square mile of territory on either of its shores, or even possessing one of its barriers, or inhospitable islands as a base, she has, for generations borne burdens there which no other nations have ever shouldered, except in the capacity of Governor; she has undertaken duty without dominion; she has kept and keeps the peace amongst people who never have been and are not her subjects; she has policed waters over which she has no formal authority, and she has kept an open market in those distant ports equally to all the merchants of the world.

Judge Inglis ruled that even an atheist can swear to tell the truth and allowed Guy's testimony to stand.

No More Thrills In Life For Sir Basil
Zaharoff

Visitors from Monte Carlo tell about an old man, who is assisted each day into a palatial automobile, taken on a brief drive in the nearby districts, and then is brought back to his hotel. This is just a bit of routine, but it composes a perfect setting for the withered, tired face of the man within the limousine.

For the face is that of Sir Basil Zaharoff, for more than a generation romantically throughout the world for his mysterious financial ramifications, and his amazing genius to sell armaments—to sell them on a big scale, to equip entire countries for war.

He became a multi-millionaire. He always was an amazing figure, one of those European anomalies created out of the blood of many nations, with a mixture in his veins, aristocratic charm in his features, and at least ten languages on his tongue.

But today, Sir Basil is just a tired, old man. Playing with the fates of nations, of entire populations, no longer has any fascination for him. That has become dull. His fortune estimated at about $175,000,000 no longer buys him any thrills. He looks out from his car upon the lowly peasants, singing in the field, and no one knows what thoughts pass within his brain.

The greater part of Monte Carlo belongs to him. But he doesn't care the gambling Casino, and disclaims any interest in it.

He was born 84 years ago at Odessa, South Russia, of Greek parents. He grew up to know ten languages men still speak, and thus entered an armaments firm as an interpreter.

Germany Training Troops

Out Of 770,000 Men 285,000 Are Ready For Immediate Action

Germany has at its disposal today 770,000 men trained for war, according to an estimate in the Czechoslovakia newspaper Libove Noviny. Its figures follow:

The Reichwehr	100,000
The Navy	15,000
Regular Reserve	120,000
Auxiliary Police	45,000
Nazi Troopers	430,000
Stahlheim	60,000

Total, 770,000. Of these, the newspaper asserts, 285,000 are ready for immediate action and the others are being trained under high pressure. Special attention, it is declared, is being paid in Germany to military aviation and successful attempts are being made to adapt commercial planes to military purposes.

Mansion Turned Into Flats

Former Home Of English Duke Cost
Over Two Millions

Costly dukedom mansion, once the home of the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, is to be turned into residential flats. Known as Sunderland House, Mayfair, it was built in 1895 at a cost of $2,500,000 by W. K. Vanderbilt, American millionaire, whose daughter Consuelo married the Duke of Marlborough. The famous ballroom, eighty-nine feet by twenty-seven feet high, is claimed to be the finest in Mayfair. It cost $250,000 and has marble pilasters, a painted ceiling, and a musicians' gallery. It is recorded that 350 couples have danced there. The thirty-two bedrooms are to be divided into flats, ranging from single rooms for bachelors to suites of four or five rooms.

Royal Scot Arrives

Coaches shining brightly under a protective covering of wax, the Royal Scot, Britain's fastest express train, arrived at Montreal aboard the freighter "Beaverdale." At the docks, a giant crane swung the cars from the ship's deck to the rails alongside the wharf. The engine was in two parts and had to be assembled.

Legend About Aviator

Javanese Paper Tells Why Amy
Johnson Commenced To Fly

When Amy Johnson made her forced landing in the Dutch East Indies on her flight to Australia, details of her adventures were published by a missionary priest in a newspaper in Java and they received wide currency among the islanders. An early form of the Amy Johnson legend has been published by the Rev. Father Lattey, a Jesuit priest, in the Times. Father Lattey derived his information from a Javan visitor to Heythrop College, Oxfordshire.

Translated into modern English, the Amy Johnson legend in its present form runs somewhat as follows: "In a far-away kingdom lived a husband and his wife. They were immensely rich and they had one daughter. They made her study under wise men so that she became very learned; but when she came home she did not understand household affairs, and she was scolded by her mother accordingly."

"Finally the daughter became angry herself and ran away and went to a skilful plumber, and the two together made a machine with fire inside to fly in the air. In this she climbed above her village and landed there to the great astonishment of the people."

"Her parents, though still angry, were proud of her, and her father promised forgiveness if she could fly across the sea and come back safely. So she had to fly across the sea, and came to this island, by which time the fire inside the machine had gone out and she had to put it out."

"Now she has still to cross one more sea, but if she succeeds and comes home again her father will give her much money and build her a house with a roof of corrugated iron."

Answers Old Question

Pressure Of Expanding Steam Causes
Popcorn To Pop

Why does popcorn pop? Perhaps every child has asked that question at some time or other. Sometimes parents are unable to answer the question. The United States Department of Agriculture is authority for the statement that popcorn pops because the moisture stored in the kernels of popcorn is converted into expanding steam when the popcorn is heated. The internal pressure of the expanding steam within the kernels causes the violent explosions which we commonly call popping.

Noon Concerts For Workers

Zlin, Czechoslovakia, famous for its large shoe factory, is enjoying concerts for workers at noon. The factory serves a midday meal for about eight cents. This consists of a main dish, possibly veal, served with potatoes and salad, and a slice of cake. After the meal comes the concert. Selections to soothe the nerves of machine workers are played by a band.

BRITISH PRIME MINISTER MAKES PLEA FOR PEACE

New York.—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald expressed the hope that the United States and Great Britain will "sit on the same side of the table" at the forthcoming international economic conference.

Addressing the pilgrims of the United States the Prime Minister said "no greater blessing can come upon the nations of this world than that Britain and America should remain in affectionate relations."

Coming to New York after his economic conversations with President Roosevelt, the Prime Minister made America farewell amidst a brilliant setting.

Notables of the financial world surrounded him. J. P. Morgan, Andrew W. Mellon, Thomas W. Lamont. Society crowded into the boxes of the Waldorf-Astoria's grand ball room. Toasts were drunk with water "to His Majesty, the King," and to "The President."

While optimistic, the Prime Minister emphasized that the time of the ultimate solution of today's economic problems was unpredictable. President Roosevelt, he said, was "perfectly right in suggesting to you that this is not one of the ordinary crises that nations go through."

In voicing a hope that the "golden years" would eventually return, the British leader asserted "but whether that may be so or not, there we are. Hosts and guest, pledged I believe, pledged as deeply as honest men can pledge themselves, that by the blessing of God and our own sense of our courage and common sense, our great-grand children will be able to add that line about the returning golden age."

In asking for international co-operation between the nations, Prime Minister MacDonald said he did not want alliances—"nor do you."

"An alliance is a bargain," he said. "Of what use is a bargain except for hampering purposes when hearts are beating in harmony."

One of the things the president and he must cover in Washington, Mr. MacDonald said, "was that your problems are our problems. So far as that is concerned, there might have been no Atlantic at all and no American revolution, in that we are a family whether you like it or not."

"These problems, he added are completely international. 'It is not an accident. What has been happening to give your problems of enormous unemployment has been happening with us, with France, with Germany and so on. And what has brought me to America at the present time is to discuss with the president as to how American experience, brains and intelligence, American business capacity could join with ours and try to make our people happier, better and put more peace into their minds."

On the side of the conference table with Great Britain and America, the Prime Minister said he wanted "other enlightened nations, other nations that do appreciate their duty to the individual and with courage, and yet with reason, face those problems and produce constructive proposals for overcoming them."

Of President Roosevelt and his visit to Washington Mr. MacDonald said: "When I arrived at the White House I shook hands with a host who happened to be your president, as a guest who happened to be the Prime Minister of Great Britain; and when I left this morning, I shook hands with a host and a president who, in the brief interval of a long week-end, had come to be regarded by me as an old and firm friend."

The Prime Minister counseled America to have patience and steadiness in solving the world's problems, especially that of disarmament, which he said was included in the White House conversations.

"There is no reason why we should not see that victory during our own lifetime," he declared.

Soviet Consulate Protest
London, Eng.—The Soviet embassy sent a formal note to Sir John Simon, British secretary for foreign affairs, as a result of an incident early today when some one threw a brick through a window in the Soviet consulate here. The missile bore the legend, "We don't like your Russian justice."

Heavy Increase In Mortgages

Total Held By Insurance Companies Trebled Since 1921

Ottawa, Ont.—Total mortgages held by Canadian insurance companies in this country and outstanding in 1931 amounted to $437,500,000. Dr. R. H. Coats, Dominion statistics, told the House of Commons banking committee. Of that amount, $307,000,000 was in arrears of principal one year or more, while $2,650,000 was "written off" that year.

Since 1921 the total of insurance company mortgages had trebled; the amount of principal in arrears had increased from six to seven per cent of the whole, while the total "written off" was five times greater.

An analysis of the three western provinces, Dr. Coats showed in Saskatchewan the farm mortgages outstanding rose from $30,700,000 to $43,400,000 in the 10 years under review, but the amount of principal in arrears one year or more increased from $3,500,000 to $20,000,000 from nine per cent to 46.3 per cent.

In Manitoba, farm mortgages between 1921 and 1931 declined from $11,600,000 to $10,800,000, but the amount of principal in arrears increased from 9.5 per cent to 42.6 per cent.

Alberta showed an increase in farm mortgages held by insurance companies from $17,600,000 in 1921 to $21,500,000 in 1931. The increase in unpaid principal was from 13.1 per cent to 22.3 per cent.

Would Seize Road

Russia Sees Japanese Plot To Gain Control

Moscow, Russia.—A despatch from Khabarovsk, Siberia, quoting "competent sources," declared that Japanese circles in Manchuria, acting with approval of the Japanese Kwantung army headquarters, have adopted a plan to seize the Chinese Eastern railway from Russia.

This would be accomplished "under the pretext of transferring this line to Manchuria," the despatch said, and would be "a grave violation of the Peking-Mukden treaty" providing for the construction and operation of the road.

Disorganization of normal activities of the railway, particularly of the eastern branch, by interrupting through freight traffic from Russian lines and the general undermining of the railway's financial position would precede the seizure according to the despatch.

Gold Being Salvaged From H.M.S. Hampshire

Boxes Containing £15,000 Brought To Surface In One Day

New York.—A treasure in gold that lay at the bottom of the sea since 1915, the Hampshire sank with Earl Kitchener during the war is finally being salvaged, said reports received here.

Apparently authoritative advice said a salvage ship, working off the west Orkney Islands at the scene of one of the war's major tragedies, brought to the surface in a day £15,000 in gold—the first batch of the treasure in the "Hampshire's" strongboxes.

Scenes of jubilation took place among the overjoyed salvage crew, advised said, as the yellow metal was exposed on deck to rays of the sun, the first time in almost 17 years.

Radicals Not Wanted

Unemployed Men Give Rough Treatment To Trouble Makers

Victoria, B.C.—Unemployed men housed at the Three Valley camp near Revelstoke are "evidently" satisfied with their lot, judging by their treatment of two men who tried to persuade the jobless out of camps to attend a meeting of alleged radicals. A short, sharp fight ensued, resulting in rough treatment being meted out to J. J. McConnell and George McLeod. Both men were arrested on charges of assault and remanded for seven days. Meanwhile, the unemployed went back to camp after sending warnings to other orators to keep away from Three Valley.

Two other men were taken into custody at Camp 338, near Lytton, on similar charges.

Ask Withdrawal Of Bill

Ottawa, Ont.—The Senate shipping committee recommended withdrawal of a bill which would have completely revised the Canada Shipping Act, but will bring down a bill amending only certain sections of the act. "Certain constitutional difficulties," according to Senator Arthur Meighen, led to the recommended withdrawal.

Criticized German Police

British Subject Sentenced To Month In Jail At Berlin

Berlin, Germany.—Fred Howard, a British subject, was sentenced to four weeks in prison at Regensburg for "using insulting language when interrogated by a post office censor."

Howard had criticized police methods in an intercepted letter. "The British ambassador is protesting against the arrest, without any charge," of William Mann, another British national. He was released after being detained two days.

MORATORIUM ON WAR DEBTS MAY BE ARRANGED

Washington.—Great Britain and the United States lined up for a seven-point world economic recovery program, embracing tariff reductions and higher silver prices.

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and President Roosevelt ended their conversations with a declaration of understanding on agreements to be sought at the June World Economic Conference.

Mr. MacDonald and the American president declared for the following, in a statement distributed at the White House:

An increase in the general level of commodity prices, restoration of commercial policies.

Reduction of tariffs, quotas and exchange restrictions.

World expansion of credit.

Capital expenditures by governments to stimulate business.

Re-establishment of an international monetary standard.

Improvement of the status of silver.

Their conversations "showed that our two governments were looking with a like purpose and a close similarity of method" at these objectives. Granting that "between the cup and the lip are many slips," Mr. MacDonald told newspapermen as he left the White House for London his conversations had been "fruitful in a way I hardly believed possible when I came."

The same enthusiasm over results of the Anglo-American negotiations was expressed by those close to President Roosevelt.

War debts relief for Great Britain, taken up by the president and prime minister, was not mentioned in their final statement. It remained for future settlement, together with the economic program outlined by the two leaders.

The debt payments became due on June 15, almost simultaneously with the meeting of the London World Economic Conference, on which these statements in their hope for accomplishment of steps outlined recently.

Cancellation of these debts was not achieved at the conversations, but the British delegation left for home with the distinct understanding that a six-month moratorium will be declared before the June 15 payment falls due. Official announcement likely will be delayed until efforts are made to persuade France to make the payment defaulted December 15 last.

This means, as was indicated in Ramsay MacDonald's press audience, that the British-United States conversations have succeeded beyond the most ardent hopes of the participants.

U.S. SOLICITOR-GENERAL

James C. Biggs, who has been named by President Roosevelt for the post of Solicitor-General of the United States. Mr. Biggs, whose appointment came as a surprise to Washington, has practised law in Raleigh since 1911, and at one time was a member of the North Carolina Superior Court.

Advances To Western Canada

Federal Government Makes Loans Under Farm Relief Act

Ottawa, Ont.—Orders-in-council were tabled in the House of Commons covering the following loans and advances made to the western provinces under authority of the Unemployment and Farm Relief Act:

$370,000 to Manitoba on one year 5 1/2 per cent. treasury bills, to cover unpaid portion of previous loan of $600,000 in respect to seedling loans.

$500,000 as a renewal loan to Alberta on one year 5 1/2 per cent treasury bills, and

Advances of $60,000 to Manitoba; $45,000 to Saskatchewan, and $15,000 to British Columbia for the purpose of relief of the single, unemployed homeless.

Opening Date Set

World Conference Will Assemble At London On June 12

Washington.—June 12 has been agreed upon by Prime Minister MacDonald, President Roosevelt and former Premier Herriot as the opening date for the World Economic Conference at London, England.

London, Eng.—June 12, fixed as assembling time for the World Economic Conference in London, is accepted in Downing street as final, barring serious objection by Japan or some other far-distant nation. There was a possibility Japan would consider the notice too short to permit its delegation to arrive here.

Hon. Robert Weir Optimistic

Oshawa, Ont.—Increased markets and better prices for Canadian cattle, bacon, cheese, dairy products, fruits and poultry in Great Britain and sister countries of the empire are opening to the Canadian farmer. This was the substance of an address by Hon. Robert Weir, Dominion Minister of Agriculture, before a gathering of farmers.

Tax On Glucose

Ottawa, Ont.—A tax of two cents a pound was levied against glucose by Finance Minister Rhodes in the House of Commons, Wednesday. This placed it on a taxation parity with household sugar.

KIDNAP VICTIM AND STEPMOTHER

At the right is Mrs. Rella Factor; the boy's stepmother, who rushed to Chicago to aid her husband in his efforts to recover his son Jerome was recently released by his captors.

Severe Trade War

Trade Between Britain and Russia Is At Standstill

London, Eng.—Great Britain and Soviet Russia were at grips today in severe trade war, which at present is slated to continue at least as long as two British subjects are held in jail in Moscow.

Its cost to the two countries in goods alone probably would total about $100,000,000 in a year, that being the approximate value of trade now at a standstill because of embargoes.

Great Britain's 80-per cent. ban on Russian imports went into effect Tuesday night, April 25, and simultaneously Russia retaliated with a complete embargo on British imports and other drastic restrictions on British shipping and commerce.

Great Britain proclaimed its embargo last Wednesday when a Soviet supreme court imposed three and two-year sentences on L. C. Thornton and William L. MacDonald, British engineers who were convicted of sabotage and espionage against the Soviet Union.

Goods chiefly affected by the British embargo are butter, poultry, cereals, oil and timber from the Soviet Union.

Russian restrictions apparently are much more severe than those imposed here. Not only are purchases of any kind in Great Britain prohibited, but chartering of British merchant ships by Russian companies is banned and restrictions are imposed on use of British ports by Russian ships and transportation of British goods through Russia to the Far East. Higher duties also are imposed on British ships entering Soviet ports.

EVIDENCE ON SUGAR PROFITS IS NOW SOUGHT

Ottawa, Ont.—Evidence to form the basis of an investigation would be welcomed by the government, Finance Minister E. N. Rhodes told the House of Commons, replying to charges there had been wholesale profligacy in sugar in anticipation of the two-cent tax levied in the budget.

Opposition members said there might have been a leak from official Ottawa several days before the budget got to account for the large orders which flooded the refineries. A careful investigation, replied the finance minister, had failed to reveal evidence of a tip-off from Ottawa, but on this point as well he would welcome evidence.

The finance minister brought in several taxation amendments, all accepted by the House. Among them were: a reduction in the proposed tax on perfume spirits; reductions in the taxes on cigarette tubes, toilet soap, unfermented wort and malt; imposition of a two-cent-a-pound tax on glucose and alteration of the duty on rubber tires which was changed from an ad valorem to a specific basis.

Charles Howard, Liberal, Sherbrooke, who made the original charges, told of one Montreal firm making a profit of $140,000 in a few hours through its sugar purchases. There were so many orders from one Montreal refinery, he said, were used to cart away the sugar. He suggested a double penalty for profiteers—extending the back tax one month to catch their profits and publishing their names and details of their transactions.

F. G. Sanderson, Lib., South Perth, said he had heard a Toronto brokerage firm made a profit of $2,000,000, buying train-loads of sugar.

The finance minister intimated the government already had checked on profiteering reports which have been street-gossip here for weeks. Officials of the department of revenue, he said, had figured the maximum loss the treasury might have sustained, was $2,000,000. And replying directly to the report of a $2,000,000 profit by the Toronto firm, he said a check-up by revenue officers at the refinery, had shown no transaction even approaching this size. "There wasn't enough sugar in the country to make possible an order of that size."

Two or three factors might have combined to create pre-budget runs on refineries, said Mr. Rhodes, the first was an increase in raw sugar prices. The second was cumulative—through wholesalers and housewives buying sugar on the strength of the report of the increase of the budget. On this latter point, a Winnipeg firm borrowed $18,000 to buy tea and coffee in anticipation of a tax, but guessed wrong and still had their supplies.

TARIFF TRUCE IS ARRANGED AT WASHINGTON

Washington, D.C.—Edouard Herriot told a press conference that a Franco-American tariff truce may soon be arranged.

This truce would cover at least the period between now and June 12, the date for convening of the world economic and monetary conference.

Proposals for such a truce, which would eliminate any possible increases in tariffs of the two countries for the period affected, have been studied during the Washington talks and will be examined further, the French delegate asserted.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt pushed forward his campaign for world disarmament and economic stabilization today with the Canadian and French spokesmen, shelving temporarily the subject of war debts, with a hint of general revision after the London pact in June.

Willingness on the part of the Roosevelt administration to consider debts relief after the economic conference, was indicated at the White House, but it was emphasized no debt plan has yet been proposed to the foreign cabinet.

Mr. Roosevelt apparently intends to consider this situation after he concludes his search for formulas for economic restoration and disarmament in the pending foreign negotiations.

With Prime Minister Bennett of Canada, he began the establishment of his "good neighbor" policy with attention focusing on improvement of trade relations, probably through reciprocal trade agreements.

In this connection, Secretary Hull of the state department, voiced the hope of newspapermen of a world truce on national tariff wall building until the conclusion of the economic conference. He believed this truce might be put into effect, when the conference organizing committee assemblies in London.

Mild Prison Riot

Flare-Up Of Convicts At Kingston Is Soon Quelled

Kingston, Ont.—Fifteen convicts caused what was termed by Warden W. B. McLaughlin as a "very mild disturbance" when they refused to go into their cells the warden said. The trouble was all "straightened away in a very short time," the warden said.

The convicts, quartered in the new section for women at the prison, decided they just didn't want to go into their cells the warden said. With stern methods the men were returned to their cells quickly. The institution now, he said, was quiet as a "morgue."

It was said the convicts were seeking liberation from solitary confinement by convict O'Brien mentioned during the convict trials last week. It was said he was being made "an issue" by convicts.

Tariff On Knitted Garments

Liberals Oppose Proposed Increase When Matter Is Discussed

Ottawa, Ont.—Increase of the intermediate or treaty tariff from 25 per cent to 35 per cent, on importations of knitted garments was under heavy fire in the House of Commons when this tariff schedule of the Rhodes budget was being reviewed in committee of the whole.

Liberals criticized the increase as being of little value to the woolen industry of Canada while at the same time raising the price to the consumer.

The item was finally let stand, when Mr. Rhodes expressed his willingness to hold it back for further consideration.

May Close Schools

Vancouver, B.C.—Closing of Vancouver schools for a month, at least, appears inevitable, in view of the action of the school board in reducing the estimates an additional $250,000. To make the reduction the trustees have curtailed and eliminated services, and according to a statement today, will be forced to close the schools for a period.

May Try Long Flight

Ottawa, Ont.—Possibilities of a non-stop trans-Canada flight attempt were seen here in the arrival of J. R. Hebert, Montreal, well-known for his long distance flying exploits. Last year he flew from London, Eng., to Sydney, Australia.
